RE: Proposed Smoking Regulations

My home is my home, and I don't care for OSHA coming in. It makes this a police state. I don't care for that, and I want to get away from it. They have enough things to take care of--why are they picking on people that are going about their business and not bothering them? I'm capable of not smoking if someone doesn't want me to, but I don't want OSHA sticking its nose into it.

I'm going to do what I please--to hell with OSHA. You're not going to tell me whether I can smoke in my home, in my backyard or anywhere else.

Respectfully,
